Original Folk Art with John Keats Quote

The words come from philosophers, world leaders, scientists, authors, community activists and sports heroes -- quotations painter RaRa Schlitt uses as part of her unique artwork to stir our thinking about our place in the world and those who inhabit it with us.

Her acrylic paintings are now all over the country and she gets favorite quotations submitted from people she has never met but who have seen her work.

All of the work she does for groups are donated free of charge. All of the proceeds from Little River Watersheds annual fundraiser will benefit this agency. Schlitt said it's the way it should be.

"I try to give back to the community," Schlitt said. "I just feel like this is what I am supposed to do. It has always felt like that."

“See Rock City” Original Acrylic Painting

In 1935, Rock City began its world famous barn advertising campaign. In its heyday there were almost 900 barns in the Midwest and Southeast that read “SEE ROCK CITY”. Due to the Highway Beautification Act, which called for strict regulations on roadside signage, the number of barns has been reduced dramatically; today there are only 70 barns that are up kept by Rock City.

Local Artist, Kathleen Wermuth, has captured one of the south’s most nostalgic icons “See Rock City” barn paintings located on Highway 129 before it crumbles into decay. Once that happens, a segment of history will fade away.

Original Folk Art with “Pablo Picasso” Quote

The words come from philosophers, world leaders, scientists, authors, community activists and sports heroes -- quotations painter RaRa Schlitt uses as part of her unique artwork to stir our thinking about our place in the world and those who inhabit it with us.

Her acrylic paintings are now all over the country and she gets favorite quotations submitted from people she has never met but who have seen her work.

All of the work she does for groups are donated free of charge. All of the proceeds from Little River Watersheds annual fundraiser will benefit this agency. Schlitt said it's the way it should be.

"I try to give back to the community," Schlitt said. "I just feel like this is what I am supposed to do. It has always felt like that."

TN Smokies

Bat Boy or Bat Girl Fantasy

Do you have a child or grandchild that is a true baseball fan filled with dreams of taking the mound and throwing a pitch in a professional baseball game? Lace up those cleats; here is the chance of his or her lifetime.

The Tennessee Smokies is inviting you to live out your fantasy at one of their 2009 season home games at Smokies Park.

The winning bidder will receive four field level seats behind dugout, a Smokies baseball hat, and a trip into the dressing room to get a “behind the plate” look and to meet the manager and coaches and the opportunity to assist the Smokies’ bat boy during the game. Pretty good! But the icing on the cake is a chance to launch a ceremonial opening pitch following your introduction to the crowd. You even get to keep the ball.
